DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I in the reply filed on November 15, 2004 is acknowledged. The Examiner appreciates applicant pointing out that Group I is the subcombination and Group II is the combination.
2. Regarding the relationship between Group I and Group II, the Examiner disagrees with applicant's arguments that the combination and sub-combination restriction requirements have not been fully satisfied with respect to these two Groups. In this regard, the Examiner notes that the limitation "a non-magnetizable pane operationally connected to limit separation of one magnet element from another magnetic element" (emphasis added) found in claim 1 (Group I) is not found in claim 9 (Group II). Therefore, under 35 U.S.C. 121, restriction between these two Groups is acceptable, because the combination (Group II) does not include all of the limitations of the subcombination (Group I), as claim 9 and claim 10 respectively include "connection" and "adhesive" in their limitations. But these limitations are neither functionally equivalent nor inherent to the claimed separation limiting Group I. Therefore, under 35 USC 121 restriction between these two Groups is acceptable.
3. Regarding the relationship between Group I and Group III, the Examiner disagrees with applicant's arguments that the combination and sub-combination restriction requirements have not been fully satisfied with respect to these two Groups. In this regard, the Examiner notes that the limitation "a non-magnetizable pane operationally connected to limit separation of one magnet element from another magnetic element" (emphasis added) found in claim 1 (Group I) is not found in claim

16 (Group III). Therefore, under 35 U.S.C. 121, restriction between these two Groups is acceptable, because the combination (Group III) does not include all of the limitations of the subcombination (Group I), as claim 9 and claim 10 respectively include "connection" and "adhesive" in their limitations. But these limitations are neither functionally equivalent nor inherent to the claimed separation limiting Group I. Therefore, under 35 USC 121 restriction between these two Groups is acceptable.

4. As regards to the applicant's arguments with respect to Group II and the Group III, the Examiner does not disagree. Therefore, Examiner withdraws that part of the restriction requirement. The Examiner notes that these groups are currently non-elected but this point is not moot, because the applicant inherently reverses the right to prosecute these Groups in further applications.

5. Therefore, claims 1-8 (Group I), which applicant has elected with traverse will be considered for examination on their merit in this Office action. Claims 9-22 stand non-elected. The restriction requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claim 1 and 3-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kaufman et al (US 5,317,293).

As regards to claim 1, Kaufman et al teach a magnetic field generator assembly, including a plurality of magnetic elements configured to collectively generate a magnetic field sufficient to acquire data for diagnostic purposes (figure 1, 2 and 9). Further, the assembly includes a non-magnetizable pane operationally connected to limit separation of one magnetic element from another magnetic element (figures 5, 6 and 9; column 2, 3, lines 46-68 and 1-54, the cured resin will create a non-magnetizable pane).

As regards to claims 3-8, Kaufman et al further teach a non-magnetizable nylon resin pane with magnetic elements containing some rare earth elements are adhesively attached to it (figures 5-9, column 5-7).

7. Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

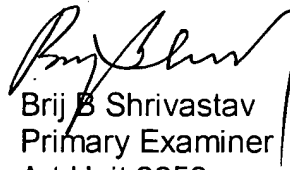

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Brij B Shrivastav whose telephone number is 571-272-2250. The examiner can normally be reached on 7 AM to 4 PM.
